

French Leave 200 Arabs Dead in Tunisia Riots

PARIS (UP) — French troops in southern Tunisia killed more than 200 Arab guerrillas in the last two weeks in one of the most fiercely fought battles yet reported in the North Africa, it was announced today.

The battle was reported as the National Assembly overwhelmingly approved a colonial reform program aimed at saving the situation not only in Algeria but in France's other possessions.

Premier Guy Mollet met with his cabinet today to consider the program aimed at preventing native extremists in other French overseas territories not to imitate the campaign of guerrilla violence that has drenched Algeria in blood.

Final casualty figures on the Algerian battle were not yet available, but French authorities estimated as many as 230 natives have been killed. Twenty-six were captured, along with large quantities of arms and ammunition.

Three French deaths were reported in the Tunisian battle.

Although the fierce 14-day battle occurred in Tunisia, the Arabs involved are believed to be guerrillas trained in Libya for service in the anti-French underground in Algeria who were cut off by French troops before they could reach the shelter of the Algerian hills.

In Algeria itself, 145 persons have been killed in scattered clashes in the past two days. The most dramatic skirmish occurred 20 miles southwest of Oran, where French reinforcements rushed in by helicopter overcame Arabs who had ambushed a detachment of Foreign Legionnaires.

House Speakers to Seek Senate Post

WEST MEMPHIS. (AP) — Charles F. (Rip) Smith, speaker of the Arkansas House of Representatives, will seek a promotion to the upper chamber.

Smith said yesterday that he would be a candidate in the Democratic primaries this summer for the Senate seat formerly held by the late Lamar L. Rodgers of West Memphis. Rodgers died during the 1955 session of the Legislature.

The 42-year-old Smith, who lives here, has served four terms as Crittenden County representative and was elected speaker of the 1955 Legislature. He is a former chairman of the Arkansas Legislative Council and was a member of the governor's Committee on Education.

Smith is an attorney for Southland Racing Corp., which is engaged in a court fight to open a new dog racing track here.

He is the first candidate to announce for the Senate post.

Anti-Stalin Slurs News to U. S. Reds

By FRANCIS STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP)—Moscow's new Stalin deflation campaign has dumped American Communists smack into the middle of a big tizzy.

It caught them in flat-footed surprise. There was speculation that it also may have caused a party split foreshadowing a top-rank purge, although party officials themselves hastened to label such talk "nonsense" and "preposterous."

The Daily Worker, official party publication, has devoted much space to the situation — including pronouncements by party bigwigs which outsiders regarded as conflicting.

The Worker also has carried a number of letters to the editor giving a variety of views. One even blistered the paper for holding each new Moscow attitude without a thought as to what had been written in previous editorials.

Other New York newspapers have made much of all this. The Times viewed Daily Worker articles by Editor Alan Max and U. S. Communist party Chairman William Z. Foster as reflecting a difference of opinion as to how American Reds should react to the Moscow development. The Times saw this as an indication of a party split in this country.

Adlai Sticks to Plan of Moderation

By JACK BELL
CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson made it clear today he is going to stick to his course of "moderation" even if it costs him the Democratic presidential nomination.

Stevenson, who took a shallicking at the hands of Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) in Tuesday's Minnesota primary, said in an interview he is not going to try to "out promise" anybody in the continuing contest for the nomination. This was an obvious reference to Kefauver's campaign pledge, particularly for high farm price supports.

"I intend to continue to express myself on the issues as I see them," Stevenson said. "If I don't think 100 per cent of parity is attainable, or even desirable, I'm not going to say that it is."

"If the people vote against me, then my communications have failed or they don't like what I've got. If I'm defeated, it will be my own fault in not getting my ideas through to the people because I believe my views are sound."

Admiral Byrd to Be Featured on Murrow's Person-to-Person Program — If Things Go Well

By RELMAN MORIN

For Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Edward R. Murrow is interviewing Admiral Richard Byrd tonight on the television program, "Person-to-Person," and keeping his fingers crossed that everything goes according to plan.

Some special complications developed.

Murrow is no stranger to problems and last-minute emergencies on this show. But he said the talk with the admiral may set a record. Here's what happened.

Byrd, who lives in Boston, left last November to go to the Antarctic. He hasn't been in his house since then, Murrow said.

"He also ordered an elevator installed in it," Murrow added. "So far so good."

An essential part of this program is to bring the cameras — and the audience — into the home

Visiting Soviet Secret Police Head Denounced in British Press as Murderer, Thug

BY WILLIAM SEXTON

LONDON. (UP)—The British press denounced Col. Gen. Ivan Serov as a thug and a murderer today, but the visiting Russian secret police head laughed at the charges.

Serov, who allegedly sent two million persons from nine countries to Communist slave labor camps, joked with reporters on the Russian embassy grounds last night.

"Look at me," he said as he thumped his chest. "Would you call me Ivan the terrible?"

The Daily Mirror columnist "Cassandra" called him much worse — "an artist in death," a "gorilla," and this "benzyl-trute." Cassandra added, "I condemn without hesitation the appearance of this murderous turnkey on British soil."

The Conservative Daily Express admitted that Serov "looks like anybody's favorite uncle," but the Daily Mirror labeled him as the "Himmler of the Soviet Union, and his business is terror, torture and the grave." Heinrich Himmler was head of the Nazi Gestapo.

The Liberal News Chronicle said Serov had a perfect right to visit British soil to check on security arrangements for the forthcoming visit of his bosses, but it called Serov's presence "unpleasant" and urged none to forget his "vicious and ugly past."

Several Laborite members of parliament were getting increasingly concerned about the visit and said they would ask Prime Minister Anthony Eden to explain to Commons about "the arrival of bands of armed foreigners from Russia." Conservatives wanted to know the reason for Serov's visit.

Despite his reputation, reporters discovered Serov was as susceptible to vanity as anyone else. He refused to take off his hat and explained with an embarrassed grin, "I'm getting a bit thin on the head."

Reporters also noticed he boasted his 5-foot, 4-inch height with inch-thick rubber soles.

One reporter came right out and asked if it was true he had "the blood of oppressed and innocent people on your hands."

"That question can best be answered by quoting a proverb," he said. "It is, 'the dog is barking—the wind is blowing.'"

To the blank stares of the reporters an interpreter explained that whoever made the "blood on his hands" allegation is not in possession of the correct facts.

New Defense System Is Unveiled

By ELTON C. FAY

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP)—A newly unveiled Army anti-aircraft system was said by Secretary Brooke to be today's "aircraft and missile" and coordinating the firing of Nike missiles against them.

The Army calls the complex radar-like system "missile master." Newsweek was shown the first developmental center which controls Nike defenses of the Washington-Baltimore area. This Army post lies between those two cities.

Their current defenses apparently spotted over a wide area. Each spotted over a wide area, each such installation has eight launchers.

The missile master system can be operated either independently or in conjunction with the over-all "sage" air and anti-aircraft defense systems run by the Air Force. In general, it is smaller, localized version of the Sage system. Sage means "semi-automatic ground control" of fighter interceptors and anti-aircraft weapons.

"Ed this place is a ghost house," he explained that, because of the new elevator, painters and plasterers were all over the place, and that the furniture was completely covered with dust robes — and nobody knew where the house could be put back to normal.

Murrow and some more assistants went to Boston. There, he said, they encountered another complication in the program of a determined Irish maid.

Army Plans Parting Salute to Collins

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army planned a parting salute today to Gen. J. Lawton Collins, whose 39 years of active duty included service as chief of staff throughout the Korean War.

Collins had a morning appointment with President Eisenhower. A formal dress parade was arranged in the afternoon at Ft. McNair.

Collins has been U. S. member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization standing group here. Collins, the Army's 18th chief of staff, was born 50 years ago in New Orleans. He was graduated from the U. S. Military Academy in 1917.

Collins was sent to Hawaii immediately after the Pearl Harbor attack in December 1941, and took part in reorganizing the island's defenses. He commanded the 25th Division in the campaigns on Guadalcanal and New Georgia.

Hospital Bid Invitations Withdrawn

LITTLE ROCK, (Special) — Operations at the State Hospital, already under fire from Governor Faubus, were further complicated today when the state Purchasing Department announced that Comptroller Kelly Connett had ordered five bid invitations withdrawn.

Originally scheduled for opening March 19, the bids called for bids for kitchen and food service supplies, with an estimated cost of $5,580.

Hospital Business Administrator Kenneth Newman, who was resigned because of pressure exerted by the governor and Board members, said that the cancellation of the bids would not hamper the institution. The supplies had been requisitioned to maintain inventories at desired levels, he explained. His resignation was tendered to take effect after the Joint Auditing Committee staff completes an audit of the Hospital records.

The comptroller's office said its action was occasioned by depletion of the Hospital appropriation for maintenance. Only $109,430 remains in the spending authority totaling $1,028,200 provided for in the legislative appropriation of General Revenues allocated to the Hospital.

A year ago at this time the appropriation balance was 450,000, remaining of a fiscal year allotment of $1,143,000.

Still available is $25,800 in a $400,000 appropriation from so-called "cash funds" — money collected from patients' families and estates or realized from farm production sales.

Operating expenses last year were the lowest in three years, but cash income from sources other than appropriations also was the lowest during the same period. Expenditures in the 1954-55 fiscal year were $4,558,183 compared to $4,636,129 the previous year and $4,565,752 in 1952-53.

Gross income, not including appropriations, was down to $697,606 in 1954-55 from $826,413 in 1954-54 and $915,837 in 1952-53.

Cost of feeding patients and staff members receiving maintenance decreased at the Benton Unit of $77,107 in 1954-55. It had been $92,073 in 1953-54 and $77,107 in 1954-55.

502 X-rays Made in Hope on Thursday

Despite cold, rainy weather the chest x-ray survey is progressing splendidly.

The portable unit was located Thursday morning at Ward Four Food Store where 201 free chest x-rays were given. Mrs. Cecil Weaver, president of the American Legion Auxiliary, was in charge of the volunteer workers from the auxiliary. They were Mrs. H. M. Olsen, Mrs. Lahroy Spates, Mrs. Mike Schneider, Mrs. W. H. Gunter and Mrs. Victor Cobb.

The unit moved in front of Saenger Theatre Thursday afternoon. There were 301 free chest x-rays given, for a total on Thursday of 502.

The clinic will continue at the Saenger Theatre location on Friday, March 23rd, from 8:30 a. m. to 12 noon, and from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Monday the survey will be at the Hempstead County courthouse, from 9 a. m. to 12 noon, and 1 p. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Tuesday morning the unit will be in Patmos. Tuesday afternoon it will be at Spring Hill. The county-wide survey will be concluded Wednesday morning, March 23rd, at Ozan.

BUG MAN—That old cartoonist's standby, the "future man" with antennae coming out of his helmet, has arrived. He's Ray Wonnacott, employee at the Hanford plutonium plant in Richland, Wash. Antennae and throat microphone are used to report by radio the radiation intensity in a "hot" zone at the plant. This speeds recording of radiation readings taken on the round detector Wonnacott is holding. Special clothing protects Wonnacott from radiation in the plant, operated by General Electric for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Full House Sees Opening Minstrel Show

A capacity crowd greeted the 13th annual Hope Kiwanis club minstrel show last night in the high school auditorium. A second performance will be held tonight at 8 o'clock.

Pretty Sharon Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent W. Foster, was crowned Junior Kiwanis Queen, and reigned over festivities. The Senior Kiwanis Queen will be chosen tonight.

Crowd Told of Millwood
As the large crowd gathered, Judge James H. Pilkinton delivered a 15-minute address in support of a "wet" Millwood dam.

He explored the great potentials of a wet Millwood, declaring that such a water supply would accommodate 20 plants of the size of the International Paper Company's plant at Springfield, La., which employs about 2500 people and uses about 25 million gallons of water daily.

Or, he added, this supply of water would accommodate 357 plants of the size of the Reynolds Aluminum plant at Arkadelphia which employs 650 people. These 357 plants would employ 232,000 people, he added.

The Arkansas Economic Council estimates that for every 100 new factory workers 292 people are added to the area, and Judge Pilkinton said 50,000 jobs on that basis would bring 148,000 more people; 56,000 more homes, $295,000,000 more personal income, $135,000,000 more bank deposits, $180,000,000 more retail sales, $7,000 additional jobs, 53,500 more automobiles, and 2000 more retail business.

Criminal Negligence
He declared that inasmuch as the U. S. Corps of Engineers has said that Millwood Dam must be built for flood control purposes, it would be "criminal negligence" not to store in the dam all the water it could contain, for present and future use.

The storage would be provided by the watershed area between the upstream dams and the Millwood site, and would not affect the amount of water storage in the upstream dams, Pilkinton said.

"Whoever heard of building a fifty million dollar project — a dam, if you please — and not putting water in it?" Judge Pilkinton asked.

"A dry Millwood dam is simply out of the question as far as Southern Arkansas is concerned," he said. "I don't believe the people will stand still for it, because a dry dam would rob this area of precious water for generations to come."

He concluded his address with a plea to support the Southwest Water District with a one-dollar membership. Hope chamber of commerce office is headquarters for membership sales.

Big Three Ministers to Meet in Paris During May to Map Stand on Middle East Crisis

By DONALD J. GONZALES

WASHINGTON (UP) — Diplomatic sources said today the Big Three foreign ministers will meet in Paris in May to map a united stand on the Middle East crisis.

Reports from London said Britain's foreign secretary will be armed with a stand-by plan for military action in case the Arab-Israeli tensions explode into war.

The United States hopes peace efforts by the United Nations Security Council will succeed. But it is seriously considering asking Congress to give it stand-by authority to use force, if necessary, if the U. N. fails.

The White House announced that a conference of President Eisenhower and his top diplomatic, defense and security advisers has been postponed until tomorrow.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty denied that the session was a "crash meeting" on the Middle East crisis. He called it another in a series of "routine technical briefings on various phases of our American security program" and said the subjects to be discussed are of a "classified nature."

"It does not in any way relate to the Middle East," he said.

Asked if it had anything to do with disarmament and aerial inspection, Hagerty said he was sorry but that he could say nothing more. He said the session was postponed until tomorrow because some of the participants could not be on hand today.

Sources here and in London said the foreign ministers of Britain, France and the United States will confer on the Israeli-Arab dispute while attending the North Atlantic Treaty Council meeting in Paris.

2 Men Rob Hoxie Store of $2,300

HOXIE, (AP) — Two men wearing stocking masks and brandishing revolvers held up a Hoxie grocery store owner last night, took $2,300 he had in his pockets and tied him and his wife to their bed in the store. A third man waiting in a car outside drove them away.

Sheriff D. S. Foley said the storekeeper, Elbert Rasdon, told him that two men entered the store while he and his wife watched television in back. Rasdon said the men wore masks and wore gloves.

When the men pulled revolvers and came toward him, he told them they could have his money. He said they took $2,300 in cash from his pockets. They discarded checks.

Fire Destroys Cleaning Shop in Washington

A cleaning and pressing shop operated by John Velvin caught fire and burned to the ground in Washington about 4 a. m. this morning and first estimates placed the loss at about $3,500.

Origin of the blaze could not be determined. The fire spread to the Washington Post Office which was saved from being gutted by a Hope Fire Department truck. Even so there was considerable damage to the roof, attic and side of the Post Office building.

In answer to the appeal for help the Hope Fire Department sent its tanker truck which was credited with saving the Post Office.

Ellis Farm Is Site of Pine Timber Study

B. J. Ellis invites the public to his farm for a pine timber management demonstration on Tuesday morning, March 27, at 10 o'clock. The Ellis farm is located 11 miles northeast of Hope near the Jewel Burke Store and the Jesse C. Burke gin.

The farm crop of pine timber harvested per acre per year from 60 acres of the Ellis forest has averaged just under 400 board feet during the last 20 years. Even with the valuable annual average harvest we think you will be amazed at the volume of quality timber now growing in the demonstration says county agent Oliver L. Adams in urging farmers, timber dealers and others to attend the field meet.

Extension Forester Harold Howell and Mr. Ellis will show the growing timber with the management practices used. Buster Denton, District Forester of the Arkansas Forestry Commission, will demonstrate and discuss fire protection. Cecil Bittle, Director, in Charge of the Experiment Station, will discuss farm forestry experiments underway at the Station. Cecil Guthrie, county ASC Office Manager, will show how ASC payments may assist farmers in timber improvement practices.

Pulp wood and mill men in attendance will be invited to make observation statements. A special feature at each Service through Wednesday will be a Children's Sermon. The nursery will have an attendant in charge and will be open during all these Services where pre-school children may stay.

Faubus Action on Segregation Is Denounced

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas' sudden official campaign in behalf of continued racial segregation in public schools has drawn the wrath of I. S. McClin-ton, titular leader of the state's Negro Democrats.

In a statement last night, McClin-ton said the problem of dealing with the U. S. Supreme Court's order for integrating Negroes and whites in tax supported leadership it needs "in high places."

McClin-ton, who is president of the Arkansas Democratic Voters Association, an all-Negro organization, criticized Gov. Orval Faubus and members of the state's congressional delegation, although he mentioned no names.

Instead, the Negro leader lashed out at two pre-segregation initiatives which Faubus says he'll support for submission to the November general election, and the "manifesto" in which Southern congressmen recently pledged their assistance in any local effort to preserve the segregation system.

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) helped write the manifesto, and Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) signed it, as did all six of the state's congressmen.

"These public servants are just encouraging open defiance of the law and the Constitution when they endorse petitions for integration and similar matters," said McClin-ton. "We need public servants who will uphold the law."

"I am not endorsing gradualism as such. But I think the Negro citizens of this state would accept a plan of gradual integration — over one to five years — that would place in high places those who recognize the law and proceed on some sincere effort to do so."

McClin-ton said Negroes would welcome a chance to vote in a conference table with the fair-minded Negroes who help to play politics with someone who has no intention of doing what the law says. I don't know whether we have leadership which any man can take seriously."

The political leaders said Faubus' petitions for the initiated acts "seemingly, are designed to give encouragement to those who would circumvent the law" and "I see no need for that sort of thing now or at anytime. And I didn't see any need for the manifesto that was presented to Congress."

Sunday School Lesson

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.
It was Sir John Bowring, religiously a Unitarian and a civil servant in India, who wrote the hymn, "In the Cross of Christ I Glory."

The fact that Bowring, a Unitarian, could write so fervently and devoutly about the Cross of Christ ought to remind us that love of the Savior has not been confined to those who accept a theological creed. Even St. Paul said that he worshipped God after the way that some called heresy. (Acts 24:14.)

It is well to hold strongly to our own convictions, but to judge with good will those from whom we differ, if it be necessary to judge them at all.

But, to return to Sir John Bowring, and his hymn of the Cross, the closing stanza of the hymn is this:
"Bane and blessing, pain and pleasure, By the cross are sanctified; Peace is there that knows all time abide."

How is pain sanctified by the Cross? And what light or comfort does the suffering of Christ bring to the problem of human suffering?

The problem of suffering is age-old, and a whole Book of the Bible, the Book of Job, is devoted to it. (Incidentally, the Book of Job found no solution except in personal faith and trust.) "Though He slay me, yet will I trust Him," and in effect the ancient word of Abraham (Genesis 15:25) "Shall not the judge of all the earth do right?"

The drama of Job was a profound protest against the views of Job's well-meaning friends,

"Self Examination of the Breast."
The presidents message was read by Mrs. Royce Weisenberger.
The nominating committee chairman, Mrs. David Waddle presented the following slate of officers for the year 56-57; President, Mrs. Frank King, vice-president, Mrs. W. E. Tolleson, secretary, Mrs. Homer Beyerley, and Treasurer, Mrs. Wade Warren.

"She won't let us in two locked rooms," he said. "We are virtually certain the equipment and many of the things pertaining to the geophysical year are in those rooms."

Byrd went to the South Pole heading an expedition gathering data for the geophysical year. This story, naturally, is a major part of Murrow's planned interview.

Not even world from Byrd's secretary bugged the maid, Murrow said. They were not immediately able to get in touch with the admiral, who makes his headquarters in Washington.

"We are a little uneasy," he said.

Fortunately, Murrow said, this program has always been a somewhat informal, ad-libbing proposition. He keeps it that way, he said, in order to get naturalness and spontaneity.

"We don't rehearse specific questions and answers before we go on the air," he said. "We talk generally about what we're going to say. Then, after we start, I just follow wherever they lead."

The program largely depends on some special equipment — a tiny microphone and two "power packs," about the size of packages of cigarettes. The interviewee carries these as he walks around his home.

Men tucked the microphone behind their neckties, and put the power packs in their hip pockets, Murrow said. He can tell you a great many celebrities who don't have hip-pockets in their suits — a fact that badly complicated one of the programs at the last minute.

"Women generally put the mike behind a corsage or pin it to a brassiere," Murrow said. "But the power packs can be a problem if they are wearing tight-waisted dress."

One actress solved this difficulty by devising a special pair of garters and attaching the units to her knees.
He said athletes are generally the coolest subjects, and gave a special palm to the New York Yankees' Yogi Berra. He asked Berra, just before the program started, if he was nervous, and quoted the Yogi's reply — "Why should I be? There ain't nothin' out there but cameras, and they can't throw at your head."

Jovial Georgi Inspecting British Plants

BIRMINGHAM, England, (UP) — Jovial Georgi Malenkov set out today to inspect two more British power plants and engage in more light-hearted small talk with British workers.

The grinning minister of power stations in the Soviet Union made it clear he has enjoyed the idle chatter with Britons as much or more than his official inspections of machinery.

He was attracting almost as many crowds as a matinee idol — and loving every minute of it.

Today's agenda included a visit to Hams Hill Power Station in Birmingham and the English Electric Works at Stafford where the Canberra jet bomber is made.

The tour schedule called for a walk of more than three miles among some of Britain's most modern plants for the pudgy former Soviet premier.

Malenkov said after "power station visits and chats with Brit-that suffering is somehow a sure evidence of guilt. This idea still is strongly held not only among idolatrous tribes but among many who worship God, but who worship Him in fear rather than in love, and who fail to read aright the truth of the Bible concerning suffering — especially the message that comes from the Cross.

The ancient Hebrews, who so easily equated suffering with wrongdoing, and of incurring thereby the wrath of God, ought to have seen and known better as they saw that it was the noblest among them who suffered the most — the prophets, whose sufferings are described in Hebrews 11:33-37.

As a matter of fact, both then and now, it has been often the purest and best who have borne the heaviest burdens, and suffered the greatest pain.

I cannot speak of the solution of the mystery of the suffering of the guiltless; nor do I think the mystery is solved. But into the mystery is the Cross of Christ — the suffering of the purest and trust One of all. The wrath of man, the hatred and injustice and cruelty of man were in the crucifixion of Jesus.

The mystery of His sufferings, like the mystery of suffering itself, cannot be explained — just why He suffered for us, or how "by His stripes we are healed."

But one can for all the Cross of Christ is the answer to those who have cried out in their pain, "Why do I suffer?" Or, especially, "What have I done to bring such suffering upon me?"

Jesus is as Lord and Savior supreme among those who have suffered and died that others might live.

I do not know why some of us enjoy life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness which others died to protect and maintain. But I do know that the fact of it should make us humble, reverent, and worthy.

Just Another Hollywood Cinderella Tale

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — From hat-check chick to star—that's the Cinderella story of sexy-voiced Virginia Leith.

Virginia is now playing opposite every girl's dreamboat, William Holden, in "Toward the Unknown." He's her boss since the film is being made for Holden's Toluca Productions. He terms her "a remarkable talent" and tried to sign her for a picture a year. But her studio told him no sale; it has its own plans for the doll.

She is shapely, brown-haired, moody and sultry-voiced. She has always talked in low tones, she says. After 10 months of vocal training at the studio, she could almost make Lauren Bacall sound like a soprano.

Virginia's advent to stardom is a curious chain of circumstances. She grew up in Cleveland with little thought of becoming an actress. As a matter of fact, she wanted to write and even took a semester of journalism at Columbia University.

"I flunked out," she confessed. "I even barely got through high school. I had one of the highest I. Q.'s in school, but got some of the lowest grades. I was always daydreaming."

She came to California, but with no intention of trying to act. Her explanation "I liked warm weather, but I didn't like Florida. So I came here."

Her first job was checking hats in a Beverly Hills restaurant. She took it because she got free meals and the tips gave her enough to live on. Then she landed a job as a showgirl in Ken Murray's club men and women yesterday that it had been the original purpose of his visit to see both people and machinery.

"But the people are more important than the machinery," he said.
After 500 persons surrounded Malenkov at the sprawling General Electric Co. plant in Birmingham, shaking his hand and having their picture taken with him, the beaming Russian proclaimed that it was his happiest day in Britain.

He told a reporter who asked him a question that war between the East and West would be a catastrophe and there were "good reasons" to seek peace.

"Blackouts." That lasted a year and she turned to modeling. One day she got a call for an interview with a bunch of men. None over 23.

"They wanted me for a movie," she recalled. "I was afraid they were going up in the mountains to make some stag reels."

The assignment turned out to be amateurs. It was called "Fear and an Arty Film" made by the young and word in it. She was tied to a Desire" and Virginia didn't have stake and required to recoil fearfully while a maddened villain menaced her.

The picture never went very far, but caused enough notice to get her a four-page layout in Life magazine. Twentieth Century-Fox saw it and caught up with her in New York, where she had gone for some TV. The result a test and a contract.

She languished a year on the lot, finally got a part in "Black Widow." Since then she has kept busy, her latest release being "On the Threshold of Space."

Despite her obvious charms, Virginia at 27 in unwed and unmarried.

Five Children Die in Shreveport Fire

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Five Negro children burned to death last night when fast-spreading flames destroyed their home. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stewart, were at a barbecue where they operate when the fire occurred.

Ambulance driver Luther Johnson said he counted five bodies. Four other children were in the house, but only one was burned seriously.

Special Justice Named to Try Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mark E. Woolsey, an Ozark attorney, has been appointed by Gov. Orval Faubus as a special associate justice of the Arkansas Supreme Court to hear an appeal from Washington Chancery Court.

Woolsey will replace Chief Justice Lee Seamster, who disqualified himself in the case. Justice J. S. Holt, the senior member of the court, will act as chief justice in Seamster's absence.

The case, brought by J. Hal volve a dispute over a contract which Seamster helped prepare before he was appointed to the Supreme Court.

Praises County Hospital

Editor The Star: This letter is prompted by two very recent experiences: First, my mother was a patient at Hempstead County Memorial Hospital about two weeks ago; and, second, I am now a patient in the same hospital.

Each and every person who contributed toward the establishment of the Hempstead County Memorial Hospital is to be commended. It took personal fortitude, courage and foresight as well as personal sacrifice on the part of the organizers to plan and get public approval and build a needed facility like this.

The hospital is living proof of the effectiveness of our democratic way of working together to attain those advantages that far too many of us could not afford as individuals.

In terms of comparison to other hospitals such as Mayo's, Rochester, Minn.; Roosevelt V. A. Hospital at Little Rock; Scott & White Temple, Texas; and Baptist Hospital, Memphis, Tenn., the people of this area certainly have a beautiful and well-equipped and staffed hospital that does not require any apologies.

The pride in the new hospital facility is perhaps best reflected in the attitude of its personnel. They can, and do, go about their tasks with an air of satisfaction, knowing that only a good job can be done under favorable conditions.

It is a challenge to everyone who anticipates a future need for a good hospital to help take care of the fine one they now have and to be interested in seeing it kept up to date in every respect.

I wish to thank all of my friends for the beautiful floral offerings, cards and letters which were such a comfort to me at the loss of my beloved husband and son, also for the many prayers which were offered in their behalf, and mine. Humez Favored in Fight Tonight

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP) — Francis's Charley Humez, European middleweight king, makes his pro debut in the United States tonight as an 8-5 favorite over "spoiler" Ralph (Tiger) James in a television bout at Madison Square Garden.

The ring-worn, 28-year-old excellent miner, has been made the choice on his unbeaten streak of 17, his European reputation and his knockouts of countryman Pierre Langlois, a long-time campaigner in America, and Germany's Hans Stretz.

On the basis of the aggressive,
wade-in styles of both, the fight figures to be a slugfest all the way.

The 10-rounder will be broadcast and telecast (NBC-TV, radio 9 p.m., CST).

Louisville and Dayton Go Into Finals of NIB

By ED WILKS

NEW YORK (AP)—Midnight finally tolled for St. Francis' hustling Cinderella team in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament and now it's top-seeded Dayton against second-seeded Louisville in the championship final (tomorrow afternoon).

Dayton's Flyers, still looking for a title in their fourth trip to the final round in five tries, proved much too big and experienced for the Brooklyn Terriers 89-58 in the semifinals last night. St. Francis had upset 4th-seeded Niagara in the quarterfinals.

Louisville, like Dayton, looked its best in attacking third-seeded St. Joseph's of Philadelphia 89-79 in the other half of the semifinals doubleheader that drew 16,125 to Madison Square Garden.

The title game will be televised rationally (CBS-3 p. m. EST).

It will be the third meeting between Dayton and Louisville this season. Each has a 25-3 record—but it was the Cardinals who made off with two of Dayton's setbacks 66-64 in overtime and 59-16. St. Joseph's and St. Francis meet to decide third place.

St. Joseph's (23-6) ended an 18-game winning streak by St. Francis (21-3) earlier this season, 80-70.

Dayton's mastery of little St.
Francis was slow starting, but once the Flyers got moving, it was a rout.

It was a contest for only 12 minutes, at which point the scrappy Terriers led 20-10 they got just two more points in the half—and before Dayton Coach Tom Blackburn started yanking his regulars, the Flyers had gone on a 44-9 tear to lead 63-27 with 12 minutes left.

The Terriers had nothing with which to combat 7-foot Bill Uhl, who scored 13 points and finally gave an acceptable accounting for himself in the garden after nine failures, or 6-7 Jim Palmer and 6-6 Jim Paxson, both of whom cannead 18 points.

The way Louisville moved against St. Joseph's the title should be up for grabs, although St. Francis Coach Danay Lynch picks Louisville "because they move the ball and run better and they pretty well match Dayton's height."

It was that height advantage that helped the Cardinals shatter St. Joseph's, Charlie Tyra (6-8), who scored 29 points, and Bill Darrah (6-5) hauled down two of Louisville's 39 first half rebounds—while St. Joseph's man-

Maxwell and Dickinson Are Targets

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Oatner Dickinson Jr., one of Ben H.
gans prize pupils, and Billy Ma-well, from Hogan's home state, Texas, were targets today in the second round of the Miami Beach
Open Golf Tournament.

The young pros-Maxwell, is 2
Dickinson 28 — played brilliant golf, worthy of Hogan himself, each posted an 8-under-par 65 yesterday's opening round. The were three strokes better than the best of the rest.

Dickinson, who once was an assistant to Hogan and who tried to follow him after the banta-of the fairways, breezed in in with a 30 on the back nine to pu-into a tie with Maxwell.

Their 64s tied the record for the 6,577-yard Bayshore Club course with its par of 36-36-72. Shaw Mayfield set the record in tournament last year.

Veteran Pete Cooper of Detroit and Sam Urzetta of Rochester, N.
Y., former National Amato-l champion shared third place with 67s. A stroke back were Mike So-chak, Jimmy Demaret, Bob Iman of Detroit, and Leo Blagel of Willoughby, Ohio.

Doug Ford, current PGA chanpion, and six others were bunched at 69. Thirty-five broke par in first round and another matched it. The field will be trimmed to the 60 low pros and amateurs, plus ties, for the fin-36 holes.
